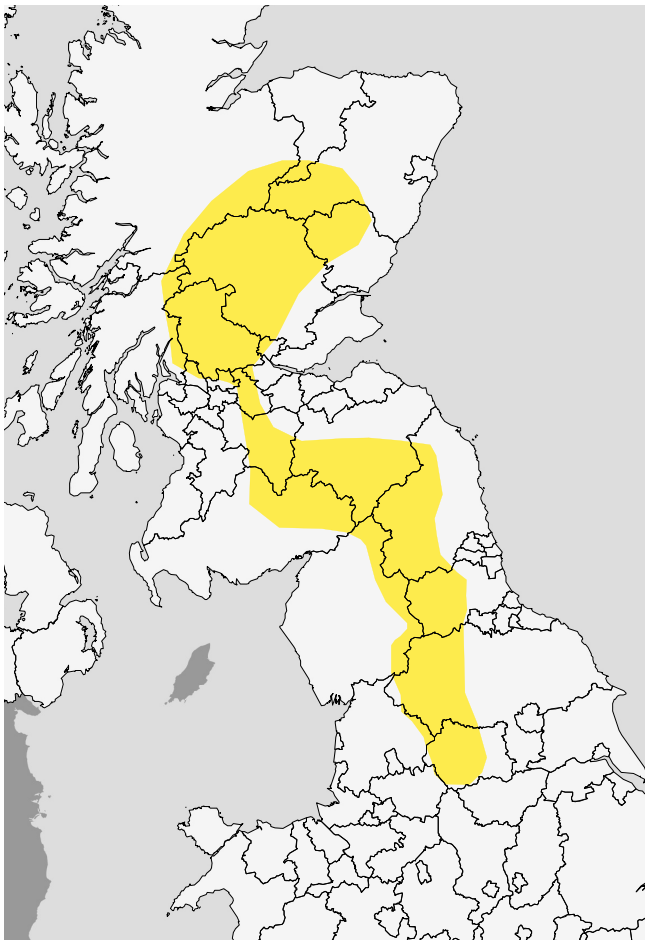
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
00:00 Thu 28 Jan 2021 and
06:00 Fri 29 Jan 2021



Heavy snowfall may occur across the hills in this region and bring significant disruption to travel.

What to expect

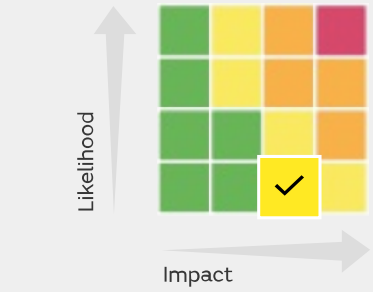
- There is a small chance of travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled rail and air travel
- There is a slight chance that some rural communities could become cut off
- There is a small chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected

Further details

A band of snowfall will likely push northeast into this region during the early hours of Thursday and become slow-moving.

Snow may fall to lower elevations for a time with some locations seeing several cm by morning, however above 200 m elevation significant and prolonged snowfall is possible throughout Thursday, with the potential for 15-30cm to accumulate which may lead to transport disruption.

Overnight into Friday snowfall will turn lighter and more patchy, and likely become restricted to elevations above 300-400 M, but may see a further 5-10 cm.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
